U.N. Orders Halt In Hostilities Of Holy Land War

Jews And Arabs Faced With Order To End Warfare

United Nations Issues Order That Holy Land Hostilities Cease

PUNITIME ACTION MAY BE DIRECTED

TEL AVIV, July 16.—(INS)—The Israeli government accepted today a United Nations Security Council resolution calling for cessation of Palestine hostilities within three days under penalty of sanctions.

By PIERRE J. NUSS (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LAKE SUCESS, N. Y., July 16.—The Jews and Arabs are faced today with a United Nations order to halt hostilities in Palestine permanently—or risk punitive action by the world organization.

The Security Council resolution, transmitted to the Arab league and the State of Israel last night, orders an end to fighting in the Holy Land by Sunday night, and an unconditional ceasefire in Jerusalem within 24 hours.

The council order is to remain in effect until a permanent, peaceful Palestine settlement is reached.

Most drastic step yet taken in U. N. history, declares the Palestine situation a threat to peace.

It provides for possible resort to economic and military sanctions in case either side fails to comply with the truce order.

U. N. officials believe that the Israeli government, and probably King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan, will agree to new ceasefire. Initial difficulties are expected, however, from Syria and Egypt.

The resolution empowers the U. N. Palestine mediator, Count Folke Bernadotte, to fix the exact hour when the order is to come into effect.

It is believed he may allow the Jews and Arabs a slightly longer time for compliance than the three-day deadline set in the resolution itself.

Bernadotte, scheduled to leave today for his island of Rhodes headquarters, has postponed his

Dewey Prepares Reply To Truman

Plans To Make Reply To President's Attack Upon Record Of 80th Congress

CONFERS WITH PARTY LEADERS

By LEO W. O'BRIEN (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

PAWLING, N. Y., July 16.—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey planned to discuss with Republican leaders today the timing and form of a reply to President Truman's attack upon the record of the 80th Congress.

The GOP presidential nominee at the same time is canvassing sentiment among congressional leaders concerning the president's call for a special session of Congress July 26.

Dewey has delayed answering the special session question until he confers with Sen. Robert A. Taft, chairman of the Republican policy committee, who is enroute to Quebec by automobile for a vacation.

It was believed that Dewey is waiting to talk not only with Taft, but with Senator Arthur Vandenberg, House Speaker Joseph Martin and House Majority Leader Charles J. Halleck.

One problem facing the GOP nominee and his advisors is the policy to be followed by the Republicans at the special session.

President Truman said it would give the GOP an opportunity to prove the good faith of their platform promises on inflation and housing.

The Republicans refuse to admit that Truman has put them "on the spot". They contend that the president will have plenty of trouble at the special session with members of his own party, and that such a session will furnish an opportunity for a reopening of the bitter fight over civil rights which split the Democratic convention wide open and led to a southern revolt against the Truman nomination.

Some of the sharpest Truman thrusts at the Republican record were aimed at legislation in which Taft had a major hand, notably the lifting of price controls. Taft and Dewey talked at length in New York City Tuesday night.

Their four-hour conversation dealt with the record of the 80th Congress and a Republican legislative program for the 81st Congress.

Big Four Council Meeting May Be Called On Berlin

Diplomatic Quarters Predict Conference Likely In View Of Berlin Issue

STATE DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS SILENT

By JOHN A. REICHMANN (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, July 16.—

—Diplomatic quarters predicted today that a conference of the Big Four foreign ministers council will follow Russia's rejection of demands of the United States, Britain and France for immediate lifting of the Berlin blockade.

State Department officials refused to discuss the situation other than to reiterate that the United States will not withdraw from the Berlin situation, regardless of countermeasures undertaken by the Soviet military command in Berlin.

Plan Next Steps

For the present, Washington remained in consultation with London and Paris on the next steps to be taken following the Kremlin's note.

The Moscow note contended that the western allies had lost their legal right to maintain their positions in Berlin by violating the Potsdam agreements for four power control of Germany.

The breach was alleged to have consisted of the three power agreement whereby the United States, Britain and France agreed to combine their occupation zones politically and economically.

In their reply the western allies are expected to point out that they combined their zones only because the Soviet Union refused to make Germany an economic whole under the Potsdam agreement.

If the western powers agree to a four power conference on Germany, it is anticipated that they will insist on an agreed agenda for the meeting.

Marshall's Attitude

Secretary of State Marshall previously indicated that he would go to no such conference unless he was assured of the problems to be discussed and with reasonable certainty that some progress would be made in settling East-West differences.

It was recalled at the last council of foreign ministers meeting the first several weeks were spent in deciding what matters were to be discussed and settling these problems was almost nothing. Marshall gave up and returned home in disgust.

If this difficulty can be overcome at any future meeting, it is believed that Marshall would be receptive to it.

In any aim for the friendly settlement of differences with Russia, Marshall is expected to have his hand strengthened by the special session of Congress called by President Truman.

Diplomats believe that the continuing session of Congress would discourage any overt moves likely to lead to hostilities since such behavior would only lead to United States isolation.

Moreover, they said, the United States would be prepared to act quickly on vital matters affecting foreign relations.

SALINA, Kan., July 16.—(INS)—

U. S. Army Air Force officials opened an investigation today into the crash of a B-29 which carried nine of a crew of 13 to their deaths as it returned from mock bombing maneuvers.

Three crewmen bailed out to safety and another was rescued after the big bomber crashed and burned one mile south of the Smoky Hill Air Base following a simulated attack on the Kansas City area yesterday.

The rescued airman was taken to the Air Base hospital in serious condition by crews which rushed to the crash scene from Smoky Hill after watching the plane plummet to earth.

Communists In Italy Forced To Call Off Strike

Attempt To Force Collapse Of Italian Government Results In Failure

WOUNDED RED LEADER IS WORSE

By MICHAEL CHINIGO (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

ROME, July 16.—The Communist-ordered general strike aimed at overthrowing the Italian government was called off today as Communist leader Palmiro Togliatti, wounded by a would-be assassin Wednesday, suffered a physical setback.

Doctors revealed that the 55-year-old Togliatti, who had one lung punctured by a bullet, has developed bronchial pneumonia.

They said he spent a rather restless night and that his condition was more depressed. Togliatti's temperature continued to rise and at last reading was 102.1.

Government Victory

Collapse of the Communist effort to unseat the cabinet of Premier Alcide De Gasperi through a general strike was viewed as a smashing victory for the government.

The president of the Chamber of Deputies was forced to suspend this morning's session for 30 minutes today after tempers flared among opposing deputies and a 10-minute fist fight broke out on the floor.

The chamber president termed the melee—the worst free-for-all since the liberation—a "scandalous spectacle."

At the resumption of the meeting he warned that henceforth anyone employing violence will be expelled from the chamber.

The fighting broke out after De Gasperi delivered an impassioned speech that Togliatti had refused an offer by Interior Minister Mario Scelba to provide the Communist leader with a bodyguard.

Government Not Involved

He cited this as proof that the government was in no way involved in the attempted assassination of Togliatti.

The premier announced his intention of going ahead in his plan to obtain legislation to curb strikes. Speaking directly to the Communists, he declared:

"We are determined to carry the Democratic experiment to the end."

"We do not want to see a return to the past or dictatorship of the left."

De Gasperi said he admitted that the attack on Togliatti was a blow which struck particularly close to the Communists and added:

"But the general labor conference's decreeing of a general strike was a great error, and they would have done better if they

Summer Coal Strike Is Over

PITTSBURGH, July 16.—(INS)—

The short summer coal strike is over today, and all bituminous mines will be back in full operation by Monday.

United Mine Workers remained away from only a few scattered pits today. Officials said those who had not returned to work probably would stay out until Monday, "since it's so late in the week."

In western Pennsylvania some 900 men still are idle, and three "captive" mines and one commercial mine were shut down.

Elsewhere production neared normal.

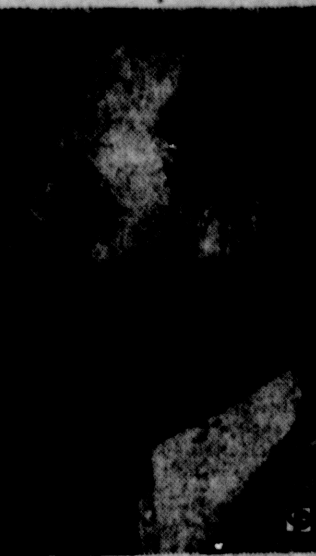

The strike, staged by the "captive" miners pending the signing of a contract with the steel industry which owns the pits, officially lasted eight days. Settlement came Tuesday when John L. Lewis and the steel companies reached agreement.

At the height of the strike some 80,000 men were out—almost half of them commercial miners in sympathy walkouts.

Israeli Planes Strike Back Against Arab Assaults In Latest Attack

TEL AVIV ALSO BOMBED AGAIN

(BULLETIN)

TEL AVIV, July 16.—(INS)—

Israeli aircraft dropped seven tons of bombs on the huge Egyptian air field and concentration base at El Arish near Cairo today.

Private advices said that the installations were hit by the Jewish bombers, which presumably flew more than 250 miles from Palestine airports to strike at Egypt's capital and its environs.

TEL AVIV, July 16.—(INS)—

The Palestine war was marked today by intensified aerial fighting in which Israeli planes struck back against Arab assaults by bombing Cairo.

The Egyptians reported that a Jewish plane, making the first actual raid on Cairo, flew over the city last night and dropped a few bombs.

A Cairo communique said that Egyptian heavy bombers dropped high explosives and incendiary bombs on Tel Aviv, causing considerable damage.

Iraqi aircraft, according to a communique from Baghdad, carried out an assault on Jewish ships in Haifa harbor.

Bald Tel Aviv

The Egyptian craft struck at 11 p. m. in a second successive night raid against Tel Aviv. Israeli fighter planes went into the air to challenge the raiders and the Jews reported that they forced the Egyptians to drop their bombs and incendiaries before the attackers reached their target.

In the land fighting, a battle was in progress for possession of the Jewish settlement of Be'erth Yitshak, three miles southeast of Gaza. While the Israelis claimed that the settlement had been repulsed, a communique from Cairo insisted that major part of the settlement had been occupied and that the fighting still is continuing.

There was no new word on the situation around Nazareth where Arab Christians were said to have taken steps to yield the Biblical city.

Sixty Giant U. S. Bombers Enroute To Great Britain

Going "For Short Period Of Temporary Duty" Is Announcement Made

MAY AUGMENT BERLIN "AIR LIFT"

By TALBOT HOOD (I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, July 16.—The United States embassy in London announced today that 60 giant B-29 bombers escorted by the usual complement of transport planes and maintenance men are en route to England "for a short period of temporary duty."

The British air ministry said the B-29's will arrive at their British bases about 5 a. m. EDT tomorrow.

Route Affair

B-29's are "Superfortresses"—top-flight bombers in the American arsenal—second only to larger, speedier and greater load-carriers such as the B-36 and B-50 which still are believed only in the experimental stage.

The statement emphasized that the bomber shipment is a "routine" affair.

It means, however, that for the first time since the war, American four-motored bombers will be re-acquainted on the British field and airports which played such a tremendous role in bringing Nazi Germany to its knees.

To Augment "Air Lift"

Observers linked the military announcement with recent disclosure by the British air ministry that steps are being taken to augment the "air lift" inaugurated by the western allies to smash the Soviet "starvation blockade" of Berlin.

These observers expressed belief that the B-29 "training" mission probably would be extended to what old air force hands now have termed the "milk run" to Berlin.

This expression was used satirically during the war to designate any bombing mission that did not entail difficulties with the heavy anti-aircraft fire which the Germans used in their all-out effort to stave off defeat.

New Pressure Move

WASHINGTON, July 16.—(INS)—Dispatch of 60 American B-29 bombers on a "training flight" to England was seen today as a new pressure move in the diplomatic conflict between Russia and the western powers.

Diplomatic observers in Washington pointed out that the flight of heavily-armed but harmless Superfortresses coincides with the movement of 10 jet-propelled U. S. fighter planes enroute to Germany but now headquartered at Goose Bay, Labrador.

The air force announced that the B-29's will be placed under "operational control" of Lt. Gen. Curtis LeMay, commanding general of United States air forces in Europe, who has been directing the Berlin blockade air lift.

1,500 Maintenance Troops

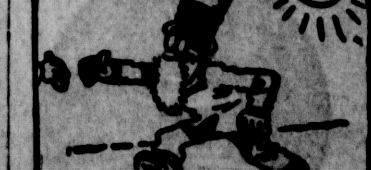

Air force officials disclosed that some 1,500 maintenance troops will accompany the B-29 flight. They will be transported in a fleet of C-54 cargo planes.

The officials added that the Superfortresses will be fully armed.

Although the air force declined to link the flight with the tense German situation, observers noted that the planes will be but a few had taken a stand against the strike immediately as they finally did."

De Facto Government Out

The premier said the labor confederation action was in error since it implied government capitulation, "and the government is determined to safeguard election suffrage and not permit the existence of another De Facto government (labor unions)."

De Gasperi declared further: "It is impossible to continue to permit that the nation's economy must hang on a bank clerk or the distribution of electric light current on a powerhouse workman. This state of things must cease."

Order Strike Off

Leftist leaders of the general labor confederation, acknowledging defeat in their attempt to topple the De Gasperi regime, ordered union members back to work at noon.

Refusal of many workers to obey the call for a general walkout designed to paralyze the nation's industry crushed the strike move from the very start.

The Communist chieftains were forced to bow to the pressure of Christian Democrat, Republican and Rightist Socialist labor leaders who earlier had directed their adherents to return to their jobs.

A Communist crowd of 8,000 staged a riotous citywide demonstration in Bologna today despite the order to end the strike, invading a factory and attempting to compel workers to cease operations.

Sixteen members of the mob were injured seriously after the crowd attacked police with revolver shots, bombs and stones.

The raises are effective today.

Thus "Big Steel" threw in the towel on its attempt to hold the line against inflation. Last April 30 the steel industry refused wage increases asked by the U.S.W., instead cutting prices to try to stop the spiral.

Today Benjamin F. Fairless, president of U. S. Steel, said: "Events of the past two months have demonstrated that our efforts have been unsuccessful."

Murray said the steelworkers also succeeded in eliminating the "no-strike" clause from the contract.

The current agreement was signed April 30, 1947, for two years. Today's contract extends the present agreement until April 30, 1950, with the right reserved for the union to reopen wage and social insurance discussions in July, 1949, and "the right to strike on these subjects at any time."

The clause granting maintenance of union membership was preserved.

departure until tomorrow to expedite organization of truce supervision machinery.

The United States, France and Belgium have been asked, initially, for military observers and such truce observation equipment as planes, jeeps and patrol ships. Israel and the Arab states may be asked, later, to contribute some of the 300 officers the mediator has said are needed for the truce observation teams.

The order instructs the mediator to demilitarize Jerusalem, effect the withdrawal of all Arab and Jewish troops and assure access to and protection of the Holy place.

1,000-Man Police Force

It is expected that a special U.N. Jerusalem 1,000-man police force, to be supplied one-third each by the U. S., Belgium and France, will be called up shortly.

The order asks all government to cooperate with the mediator by supporting military area immigration control and arms embargo measures in line with the rules governing the previous four-week truce.

If also, by giving Bernadotte full authority to establish observation machinery, opens the way for him to call upon the U. N. governments for additional truce teams and equipment if he considers them necessary.

The council adopted the order by a seven to one vote.

The Soviet Union, the Ukraine and Argentina abstained, and Arab Syria voted "No."

Personal violence emerged again as a European political weapon that refuses to stay out of the headlines. And by significant coincidence, the shooting of Italian Communist Leader Palmiro Togliatti occurred while Philadelphia was reeling from the boom of hand-drawn caricatures and all the theatricals that attest the inalienable right of Americans to debate their destiny in shirt-sleeves—and in safety.

The widespread Communist riots in Italy that followed the Togliatti attack were expected and inevitable. But so was the statement of Pope Pius XII that he was shocked by the incident and his reaffirmation of the depth to which the Catholic church deplores violence in any form. A few months ago when the voters of Italy were called upon to choose at the polls between Marshall Plan Democracy and a militant Communism dictated by the mafia, the same Pope Pius was dragged into politics like no other Pontiff of modern times. The Communists—with or without Togliatti's knowledge and approval—subjected him and the church to abuse in magazines, newspapers, pamphlets and election placards. On numerous occasions the Pope was compelled to ask for prayers for the faithful lest the Eternal City be blackened by a pall of godlessness.

For Conservatism
Yet when the time came for Italians to vote, and when they knew they could vote without fear of intimidation and in the hope of success from near-neighborhood, they cast their ballots for Democracy and Catholic conservatism. In his defeat, and despite all charges made against him of disloyalty to Italy and a "sellout" to the masters of Moscow, Togliatti managed to retain his position as a Left-Wing politician with stern convictions that the Western Powers are not entirely sincere in their desire for peace.

This, of course, is the accepted "line" of the Togliatti had been saying only what Communists everywhere in the world parrot day in and day out, regardless of their nationalities.

Even his most bitter opponents, however, have not accused Togliatti of furtive plotting in behalf of Moscow, of espionage, sabotage or

Looking At Life

By Erich Brandeis

You wouldn't believe that one could get a lesson in humility from a little thing about five inches long, a half inch in diameter, looking like a pencil case in brown wrapping paper. Or would you?

Well, a few evenings ago I was sitting in my living room, looking at a movie taken about twenty years ago with Ben Turpin as the hero. To see that kind of stuff I had just bought a new television set and invited several friends to share in Turpin's ancient artistry.

Suddenly there was a clasp of thunder, preceded by a terrific flash of lightning. The television set, man's newest invention, went off. The lights went out. The water pump stopped. The refrigerator rattled.

While the wife rushed madly all over the house to close doors and windows, I rushed to the telephone to call up the power company. The phone was dead.

So there we sat, my wife, our friends and myself. Ten minutes before we had guffawed at Ben Turpin's outmoded antics.

And here we were, in the dark, with the lightning blazing away and the thunder making an ungodly (or should I say godly?) racket.

Nobody spoke. There didn't seem anything to talk about when elements were doing all the talking.

After a while the lightning and thunder stopped. The lights went on again. The pump started pumping. The refrigerator took up its familiar hum. Man's inventions were at work once more.

The television set came on again, but I turned it off. Somehow we had lost our interest in it. We had a cup of coffee and after a half hour or so the friends went home and we went to bed.

Next morning I tried to put in a telephone call. But the phone was dead.

So there we were, out in the country, cut off from the world. My wife wanted to call the grocer. I had to call the doctor, the office in New York, and several other people. I fumed and fretted and realized by what a slender thread civilization hangs.

For four or five hours we were isolated. Then a man came from the phone company.

He was a plain working man, in overalls, toothed hair, no coat, no necktie, nothing that smacked of the parlor.

But without any ado he went down into the basement, stayed about three minutes, came back and said: "Your phone is all right again."

Then he showed me that little thing which gave me a lesson in humility—about five inches long, a half inch in diameter, looking like a pencil case in brown wrapping paper—a blown-out fuse.

"Is that all?" I asked.

"That's all," he said, got into his truck and went to the next place that had been made an island by a blown-out fuse.

Sometimes when I get a lot of fan mail, when I see my name in a hundred newspapers, I think I am quite some pumpkin.

That little blown-out fuse taught me otherwise.

Ancient Mariner Of Party

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Evidence Of Brotherly Love
PHILADELPHIA, July 16.—The two political conventions that have been held here in the city of brotherly love have not been edifying or high-minded or inspiring either to America or to the world.

It seems on these occasions as though politics were the lowest common denominator of American life. Philadelphia is unearthing a series of sordid scandals involving one Republican official after another. Holmes Alexander is the Evening Bulletin has called the city "a sinkhole of corruption."

And the graft and venality coming to light would seem to justify that description. If politics were the only expression of the American spirit, we should be in a bad way indeed.

Foreign visitors who accept the raucous political surface as the whole story are badly deceived. Brotherhood Love.

Anyone sick of the platitudes of politics and weary to death of the meaningless phrases endlessly repeated might have found here in Philadelphia a force embodying the brotherly love that long ago gave the city its name. The American Friends Service committee is a candle in the wind; a steadfast candle in the awful wind blowing across the world today.

The work that these Quakers are doing, the example they are setting, will be felt long after the words spoken here have been forgotten. I listened to Clarence Pickett, executive secretary of the committee, describe the work they are doing in Germany, Italy, Finland, Poland, China, Hungary, India and in this country.

The actual relief distributed is $25,000.

Not Believed By 'Iron Curtain' The Quakers who direct the Friends Service committee refuse to be balked by the deadly phrase "iron curtain." They continue to work for understanding between the two peoples.

Last year the Friends were awarded the Nobel peace prize, a fitting recognition of years of service. They want to use the $30,000 in prize money to bring understanding with the Russians of course, a drop in the vast bucket even though it be the smallest beginning.

They see the shadow of another (Continued on Page Seven)

Sees New Possibilities

By PAUL GALLICO

A new type of anti-Communist propaganda is developing in the city of Memphis, Tenn., where a Mr. R. H. Crump, designated as political boss of the city, has been engaged in an altercation with editor Howard J. Meenan of "The Memphis Press-Scimitar" over the senatorial candidacy of one Rep. Hiram Kefauver.

Mr. Meenan has been supporting Rep. Kefauver. Mr. Crump has been denouncing him. The basis of the quarrel is somewhat nebulous to this article, but because Rep. Kefauver on many occasions in Congress has voted the same way as Rep. Hiram Kefauver of New York, therefore Mr. Crump insists that Kefauver has Communist leanings, a somewhat arbitrary classification not heeded with too much sense. Equally silly is the concept that the "Press-Scimitar" which is a Scripps-Howard newspaper, would support anyone even faintly identified with the Red Brotherhood. The Scripps-Howard papers, and notably their "World-Telegram" here in New York, have been notable exposers and fighters of Communist infiltration in the U. S. A.

Novel Proposal
However, what we are concerned with is the novel proposal made last week by Mr. Crump that an impartial committee composed of clergymen, businessmen, women, labor or professional men, etc., look into his charges against Rep. Kefauver. If this committee can prove them false, Brother Crump proposes to reach for his slammer, clamp it down over his head and leave Memphis, Tenn.-see, never never to return.

If on the other hand the committee finds that the accusations can be substantiated, Editor Meenan is to pack his big, brawny of his bones and chisel and shade the dust of Memphis from his clasp forever.

Certain Foundation
I do not know what disposal will have been made of this original idea broadcast over eleven radio stations by Mr. Crump's mayor by the time this appears in print, but the idea has a certain foundation. The thought of a public figure returning home at night and saying, "Well, Mom, I lost the debate today. Pack up your duds. Get the kids ready and stick that FOR SALE sign up in front of the house. We're moving to Ashlandville," is rather pleasing.

As it is now, it is a little too easy for statement, political opponents or persons in the public eye to blunder one another. There ought to be a little something at stake to make a man consider his remarks carefully before he sprays them into the ether. Man was always a quarrelsome creature and prone not to see eye to eye with his fellows on a number of subjects but it seems to me that in days of yore he was a little more cautious because the custom was then for contending parties who could not resolve their differences to slip into their hardware, let themselves be hoisted aboard their trusty steeds and have at one another with spear and sword until one or the other was no longer corporeally present to carry on the argument which then terminated automatically.

Smacks Of Dictatorship
Rep. Kefauver has been quoted as saying that Mr. Crump's suggestion that a town could not hold two men of differing opinions smacks of dictatorship, but I cannot go along with him on this. It looks to me like a sporting proposition in which, it is true, Brother Crump probably feels he has some kind of edge, but there is nothing to prevent the other side from bringing ITS seconds to the fray to make sure that the duel is run on the up and up.

If Mr. Crump is a jugghead, the "Press-Scimitar" will be performing a public service to the State of Tennessee by causing him to move to Mississippi or Alabama. If Editor Meenan is backing a wrong horse, maybe he had better be editing somewhere else. The U. S. A. is large. The roads are numerous and excellent. In my delighted mind's eye I see them packed and criss-crossed with houses, politics, defeated candidates, editorial writers and statesmen, their worldly goods piled up on top of the old law, moving on to other quarters. The trailer park, the service station, the tire companies and the real estate johnnies. The idea is worthy of national expansion and particularly applicable to Washington, which is overcrowded anyway.

JOBS UPON A TIME

Russian-born Gregory Ratoff, motion picture director and writer, received his education in the Imperial School of Commerce, Petrograd, but sidestepped a commercial career for the theater and motion pictures. In America Ratoff appeared on the stage in such musical comedies as "Blossom Time" and "Teeth Avenue," and also produced and staged several plays. Some of his more recent pictures are "Irish Eyes Are Smiling," "Paris Underground" and "Do You Love Me?"

Veteran Actor Sydney Greenstreet has the distinction of having been a close personal friend of two United States presidents—Theodore Roosevelt and Woodrow Wilson. In fact he is said once to have used the White House as a theatrical dressing room when "Teddy" resided there. He was born in Sandwich, Kent, England, attended Dana Hall college at Margate and the Ben Greet School of Acting in London. He made his screen debut in 1941 in "The Maltese Falcon."

WIGGLERS
Years ago, every house had a rain barrel. The youngsters liked to "holler down the rain barrel, when it was empty. After a big rain it filled up.

After the water stood a few days there would be wigglers in it. The youngsters liked to watch the wigglers wiggle. They did not know that they had anything to do with mosquitoes.

Wigglers and worms cause a lot of trouble. Cleanliness and sanitation help to keep us free from worms and bugs. Clean hands are very important. "Look before you leap," is a good rule. Wash before you eat is a good rule too. Food handlers should wash their hands pretty often.

THE EYES HAVE IT
DALLAS, Tex., (INS) — More Americans than Europeans wear glasses, according to a famed Austrian eye specialist. But adds the specialist, Dr. Adalbert Fuchs, that doesn't mean that Americans have more eye trouble. He explains:

"They are just bent on getting all the vision it's possible to get. Many Europeans, with only 10 to 30 percent of normal vision, go about their business and don't give eye-sight a thought."

During the fiscal year 1946-47 only 4,311 women worked in Nebraska's industrial plants, compared with the record of 28,751 in 1943-44.

Equalization Of Assessments On Properties Aim

State School Directors May Spearhead Drive In General Assembly

HARRISBURG, July 16.—(INS) —A drive to equalize property assessments for all taxing purposes may be spearheaded by the State School Directors Association during 1949 session of the General Assembly.

The organization believes that variance in assessment rates placed on real estate by neighboring school districts and other local government units is a big obstacle to merger of inefficient and financially weak political sub-divisions.

Consolidation of small units or rural governments with small populations long has been one of the chief goals of the legislature and proponents of sound, strong local government.

School boards were required to submit merger plans to the department of public instruction this month under an act of 1947 aimed at terminating the era of the "little red school house".

There was evidence that some of the local government organizations, devoted to fostering good government, would join such a campaign.

Communities favor assessments pegged at true market values to streamline their revenue raising chores and assume equitable contributions toward county tax rates.

Municipalities with the highest assessments now carry the burden of the county tax rates.

It would be to the advantage of all local units to establish an equitable rate.

Proponents of the idea believe the work could be handled by the tax equalization board created by the General Assembly last year to set market values on real property and determine proper state subsidies for school purposes.

To Prevent Inequities

The motive behind creation of the board was to prevent school districts, deliberately underestimating revenue raising potentialities by under-assessing property, from obtaining more than a just share of state money for teachers' salaries.

The board's job would be continuous so that "market" value established by it would be current.

The growing tendency of school districts and municipalities to operate joint projects pointed up another argument for an even property assessment.

Joint and consolidated programs were labeled "progressive, with a lot of merit" by P. O. Van Ness, head of the school directors. He urged tax equalization to encourage joint ventures that "do not go to the extreme".

Some advocates of the assessment plan felt changes might be necessary to provide for the appointments of all assessors. Some are elected.

It was pointed out that when politics enters the picture, the tendency is to keep assessments low to appease voters.

WESTPORT, Wash., (INS)—Most spectacular erosion spectacle on the Pacific coast is that at Point Chehalis. Here, the shoreline is disappearing at the rate of one foot a week. Point Chehalis once was two miles wide. Today it has been nibbled down to 50 to 75 feet by inshore current. It is expected to vanish this year. Fortunately, no one lives on the vanishing peninsula.

Larger Spring Pig Crop Is Reported

State Reports That 1948 Spring Crop Amounts To 330,000 Pigs Farrowed By 70,000 Sows

HARRISBURG — A slight increase in the number of pigs saved from farrowings on Pennsylvania farms this spring, compared with last, was reported today by the State Department of Agriculture, indicating a larger supply of chops, sausage, scrapple and other pork products during the coming winter. According to a federal-state survey made with the assistance of rural mail carriers of Pennsylvania, the 1948 spring crop totaled 330,000 pigs saved from litters farrowed by 70,000 sows. This compares with 320,000 pigs from 68,000 farrowings a year earlier. The spring pig crop includes all litters farrowed between December 1 and June 1.

The outlook is for a smaller fall pig crop this year than last, the survey revealed. Farmers have announced intentions to have only 28,000 sows farrow between June 1 and December 1, compared with 30,000 for the same period last year. This spring pig crop is well above the 1947 (1937 to 1946) average of 300,000 pigs, the department said. The increase is because the number of pigs per litter that pulled through alive was better than average. Pigs saved per litter this spring averaged 6.7 pigs each, compared with 6.5 last year.

The slightly larger spring pig crop in Pennsylvania is encouraging because the national crop of 31,421,000 showed a decrease of three per cent from last spring.

Murray To Make Statement Today On Wage Offer

PITTSBURGH, July 16 — (INS) — Philip Murray, President of the CIO United Steelworkers said that he will have a statement today on the U. S. Steel Corp. wage offer for 170,000 steel workers. Murray said he will comment on the offer at a meeting of the union's wage-policy committee today in Pittsburgh. Decline Comment The union chief declined to enlarge on the matter or to comment on Thursday's meeting with the union's executive board and the "Big Steel" negotiating committee. The steel company announced earlier that it "hoped to grant an increase this week."

At the same time, wage discussions continued between the Weirton Steel Co. and the firm's 10,000-man independent union.

EAGLE KILLS BOY
ISTANBUL — The seven-year-old son of a shepherd, climbed a summit on the Anatolia plateau recently and prodded into an eagle's nest. There was a scream from above and, as the helpless father and villagers watched, an eagle swooped down. With the child in his claws, the bird soared upward and away. Those on the ground watched the boy struggle furiously and finally break loose — to fall to his death from more than 1,000 feet.

Twenty-Two Women Are Fire Watchers In State

HARRISBURG, July 16.—(INS)—

Ladies in towers are not out of date.

There are 22 in Pennsylvania. They guardedly wait and watch for willows signs of fire that annually ravages hundreds of acres of timberlands.

Female fire watchers have been a part of the commonwealth's forest protection system since the inauguration of tower observation more than 30 years ago.

Their job is simple, but requires alertness, calm thinking, "immeasurable patience" and a love of outdoors, according to H. B. Rowland, chief of forest protection.

Equipped with telephones, radios, binoculars and maps and technical equipment, the women work six months of the year high in the towers detecting fire-betraying smoke. They flash warnings to the local forest fire protection station, indicating the location of the blazing woods.

Women Good Watchers
Rowland said they and 120 mile fire observers are employed only during the dangerous dry seasons of spring, summer and fall. The regular protection service is capable of handling blazes along with other duties during the balance of the year, he explained.

"We have found women make as good, if not better, watchers than men because they have more patience and don't object to sitting confined in the tower during their daylight working hours," Rowland said.

Many are wives or daughters of forest rangers or other personnel working in Pennsylvania forests. They are employed locally at salaries ranging up to $150 a month.

"The jobs are not entirely satisfactory to many men due to its seasonal aspects," Rowland said, "but it gives women a good opportunity to earn some pin money."

The sole advantage of having male watchers was their capacity for a little brush clearing or other work on the side, but, said Rowland, that is an "unimportant feature."

"We've had women ever since we started our protective system," he emphasized. "We like them. We're proud of them. We want them to stay."

THE WORLD AND THE MUD PUDDLES

duction nor free competition can prevail under government controls.

Control Be Done By Controls

It is necessary in this country to stimulate full production and free competition to enable the supply to come somewhere near the demands made. This cannot be accomplished by any control of the price of commodities. It can only be accomplished by the workmen in every walk of life giving their full power, with less talk about the length of time they are to work or the price for which they will work. If they want to go to market and buy food for less price, they will make more of everything and the increased supply of the necessities of life will bring decreased prices. This is a truism that no argument against the accomplishment of such a condition can change the political economy which controls prices.

Ice Cream Makers In Busy Season

HARRISBURG.—The coming of warmer weather automatically increased the manufacture of ice cream in Pennsylvania during May by five per cent over April, according to a federal-state survey announced by the State Department of Agriculture.

No other state could equal the Pennsylvania total of 7,300,000 gallons of ice cream for the month of May. New York was second with 6,330,000 gallons. While the Keystone state output was 11 per cent under May 1947 it was 23 per cent above the five-year average of 5,310,000 gallons.

The bubble takes its round, ball-like shape because it takes the shape in which it can hold the enclosed air with the smallest surface area. The sphere has the greatest volume for the least area, and so the soap film pulls itself into that shape. Shot and marbles, while in a molten state, assume the same shape for the same reason.

Sports Day Is Big Event At Dean Park

Sequel To Sports, Gay Ribbons Are Prizes; Cartoon Drawing Special Feature

One of the most popular days at the playgrounds is sports day, and Dean Park youngsters proclaimed this their favorite day on Wednesday afternoon.

Dean Park youngsters had their sports day postponed a week because of the carnival being held there, but this only seemed to whet the enthusiasm of the young contestants as they vied for their prizes, Sequelcentennial tee shirts. Other prizes were colorful ribbons.

Results of the various contests were as follows:

Jack—Sylvia Strick
Hornsho—J. Patterson
Cochran—Vince Julian
Beebe—Bert—Ray Giannelli
Hopsoch—Polly Ann Pratt
Penny—Bert—Harry Erwin
Rice—Ducky Demas and Ness Flannery Jr.

Softball throw for girls—Louise DeLise.

A cartoon drawing contest held the attention of would-be artists for quite some time. Prize cartoons were of Woody Woodpecker and Andy Panda, with the prizes, Andy Panda, with the prizes, going to Roger Eagan and Marie Pisano.

During the week an all-star softball game was played, with Chris Demos and Dan DeVitto representing Dean Park on the side of the winners, the Nationals.

Girls' volleyball team also defeated the girls from Big Run playground, taking two out of three games.

Visitors at the playground on sports day commented on the fact that the youngsters entered the various contests with fine sportsmanship and cooperation.

NUMBER OF GUESTS AT INFORMAL WEDDING

"Please give me the correct procedure in the following: (1) How many persons may correctly be invited to an informal wedding? (2) Is it correct to send announcements to those not invited to the wedding? (3) I know it is not correct to send formal engraved invitations, so please give me the correct wording of an informal invitation to both the ceremony and the reception. (4) How long before the wedding should invitations be mailed? (5) My father will not give me away. May I correctly walk up the aisle alone and meet the groom at the altar? (6) When during the reception may I correctly leave for my wedding trip?"

Answer: (1) As many or as few as you please.

(2) Yes, announcements should be sent to all of your friends and acquaintances not invited to the wedding. Those who attended the wedding usually receive no announcements.

(3) Here is a form of invitation you may send, adding any personal touch you desire:

"Dear Mrs. Smith: "Jim and I are to be married on Saturday, the seventeenth of July at four o'clock in St. James' church. We both hope you and Mr. Smith will come to the ceremony and afterward to wish us luck at our reception in my home.

"Until then— "Sincerely . . ."

(4) About three weeks.

(5) While it is much more comfortable for the bride to have an arm on which to lean, she may, if circumstances rule otherwise, walk up the aisle alone and meet the groom at the altar.

(6) At any time you wish after refreshments have been served and you have danced with the groom and a few of the guests, if you have dancing.

war growing darker and darker and yet they refuse to accept the dread inevitabilities of power politics. They have seen at first hand the havoc of war and they know that one more conflict might forever destroy the base of a free, Christian society. So they work and pray and work.

Those who have succumbed to the disease of power, and the number is legion, will hardly notice this effort. They may even think it is a shade ridiculous. What can these well-meaning people possibly do with their pathetic soup kitchens and their gentle kindness? Why the Russians are our enemies.

The power-man would naturally not understand the strength of these quiet people. It rests above all in their individual faith. That faith is in fact the strength of the western world and if it goes, then all is gone.

We have heard a little of this in the two conventions. But they were lonely voices almost lost in the scramble for power and place. In the clatter and din and rush they were only faintly heard.

For this reason, Communist representation in European National Assemblies for years has been a sizeable factor.

Communist deputies sometimes observe an affection such as refusing to wear a necktie or getting a shoe-shine before an Assembly meeting. But such affectations also have been part and parcel of European politics for years.

So far as his public appearances and chamber speeches were concerned, Togliatti always presented himself out in the open, just as his counterparts in France, England, the Low Countries and Germany always have done.

Around Hollywood

By EUTH BRIGHAM
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, July 16 — (INS) — A Zachary Scott, the sturnish gent who's made good at evil in motion pictures, declares he wouldn't give up his bad men roles for anything.

"I'd feel out of step with myself and my career," he grinned amiably. "The few times I've been a nice guy — I was, you know, in 'The Southerner' and 'The Unfaithful' — I had to cheer myself up with the thought I'd soon revert to type."

Slender Member Scott points with pride to his sinister record in Hollywood: "Mark of Dimitrios," a killer, and a smutty one at that.

"Mildred Pierce," the Pasadena playboy who meant no good and did no good by Miss Joan Crawford.

"Her Kind of Man," as a cheap-souled gambler.

"Case Timberlane," a chilling charmer.

"Ruthless," as a ruthless monomaniac.

"Whiplash" (as yet unreleased) as the crippled, embittered fight manager.

And now — "South of St. Louis," in which he portrays a Texas cowboy who goes bad under the influence of greed and power as a successful confederate gun runner.

member," Scott said. "Women, in particular, love 'em. What is there about a bad guy that's so fascinating? I can't answer that one myself. All I know is a heavy is heavy to play."

PASS THE CAVIAR
Director Darryl Zanuck got ten pounds of rare Russian caviar via an overseas package airmail. He thought maybe the Russians were expressing their thanks for "The Iron Curtain" — so decided to have it looked into. He sent the caviar out for analysis — and when he got it back only three pounds were left.

The moral, says Zanuck, is don't look a gift horse in the mouth. It was so good even the guinea pigs loved it.

MUGHES IN TOWN
Yep, the magic check-writing fingers of Millionaire Howard Hughes, new boss man at RKO, have really been felt. Only now they're not writing checks — but orders — orders that will reduce and eliminate salary checks.

Free-lance writers at the studio have been asked to turn in their unfinished masterpieces — and conclude their services. Writers under contract are to wind up their scripts or summaries. Those with layoff provisions are ordered laid off.

The publicity staff will be out in half, and no more production will get underway until October.

Mr. Hughes has come to town.

Dr. D. A. Karzis Is Guest Here

In U. S. As Official Representative Of Greek Government On Mission

Enroute to Washington, D. C., in an effort to cement goodwill between the American nations and Greece, Dr. D. A. Karzis, official representative of the Greek government and the League of Intellectual Workers of Greece, is spending a few days in New Castle with his friend, Speer Marousis, 2305 Highland avenue, who is also active in American-Greek activities.

Greece is certain that America will not let her down, Dr. Karzis told a News representative, as he looked forward to the increased supply of grain, flour, sugar and rice which he anticipates the U. S. will send to his native land.

Dr. Karzis, who speaks English only through interpretation, related in Greek to Mr. Marousis his intentions and ambitions in the U. S. and Mr. Marousis, in turn, related to a reporter the thoughts expressed by the representative from the European country. He carries official documents from the Greek government authorizing him to develop Greek cultural relations between Greece and the American governments.

To Set Up Headquarters
His staff of interpreters and secretaries are already enroute to Washington and will set up headquarters there awaiting the arrival of their leader, who will intercede with the American government for increased supplies of the above mentioned commodities.

Dr. Karzis has just returned to the U. S. from Canada where he was received with open arms by the Canadian government, giving him the highest seat in the parlia-

Cuban Actress To Be Arraigned In Shooting Case

HAVANA, July 16.—(INS)—Laura De Paula Masana, a blonde Cuban actress, will be arraigned in court in Havana today charged with the fatal shooting of the young Boston socialite with whom she reportedly was living as man and wife.

Police say that she confessed to the shooting of Thompson Newbury, wealthy 22-year-old Harvard graduate last Tuesday after he had told her, "shoot me, kill me."

But, according to the police, she added that "I thought the pistol was unloaded."

Laura is being held in Havana's women's prison.

URGENT HOUSEWIVES
To Stop Buying Of High Priced Food

CHICAGO, July 16.—(INS)—A National Association of Retail Grocers official urged housewives today to stop buying high-priced food items as one sure way of beating high food prices.

Mrs. R. M. Klefer, NARG secretary-manager, declared: "Shoppers must assume at least part of the responsibility for the present price situation. Thus far they have made little effort to curtail their purchases of these (luxury) foods and consequently, prices of some of these foods... are forced up to unnatural levels."

"The one solution is to stop buying the high-priced items and devise meals which make use of more plentiful and lower-priced foods."

Salary Increases Will Be Granted State Employees

HARRISBURG, July 16.—(INS)—Most of the commonwealth's 54,000 employees today were assured of salary increases this year, possibly by August 1.

The size or form—whether flat hikes or meritorious raises—will be determined probably next week by Gov. James H. Duff and a special committee of cabinet officers.

They were directed by the governor during a cabinet meeting yesterday to study the possibility of reclassifying salary schedules for the various job categories thrown out of focus by "merit" increases of varying amounts last September. Duff announced the basic minimum wage of $1.428 a year "definitely" will be increased because it was "too low."

Duff emphasized he had taken the initiative in proposing the increases to help comparatively low-salaried state workers meet increased living costs. He refused to say whether the boost would bring state schedules in line with the new federal wage scale of industrial rates.

To Stop Buying Of High Priced Food

CHICAGO, July 16.—(INS)—A National Association of Retail Grocers official urged housewives today to stop buying high-priced food items as one sure way of beating high food prices.

Mrs. R. M. Klefer, NARG secretary-manager, declared: "Shoppers must assume at least part of the responsibility for the present price situation. Thus far they have made little effort to curtail their purchases of these (luxury) foods and consequently, prices of some of these foods... are forced up to unnatural levels."

"The one solution is to stop buying the high-priced items and devise meals which make use of more plentiful and lower-priced foods."

Probyterian Missionary Group Sends Religious Literature To Philippine Mission

Members of the M.E.G. auxiliary of the Mahoningtown Presbyterian church, were entertained on Thursday evening, at the home of Mrs. Raymond F. Fisher of 718 Young street. Mrs. George G. Morschler led the devotional exercises.

The committee, Mrs. Paul Bender, Mrs. Alexander and Mrs. Clifford Comstock, will send a box of religious literature, to the Philippine mission area.

Topic for the evening was "A Single Purpose", from the program which is outlined for 1948 and 1949. Mrs. Ernest Farver led in review of three phases of work in the Presbyterian churches, through the Board of Education, National and Foreign Missions. Other members joined in the discussion of our own particular church problems.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and co-hostess Mrs. Alexander and Miss Beverly Fisher.

Mrs. M. Black, Sr. and Mrs. Harry Black of Mercer, and Mrs. M. Gilkie, West Madison avenue, were special guests. The group recited the Lord's Prayer to close the meeting.

Next meeting is scheduled for Thursday, August 12, which will be a picnic for members and their families, with the executive committee in charge of arrangements, place to be announced later.

At the rear of Mahoning school, workmen were removing part of the wall of the south side of the boiler-house on Tuesday, to enable the removal of the old boilers, which have done service for over thirty years. At the south end, a motorized digger had removed the soil for an asphalt to be located in that spot.

Sylvester Russo of East Clayton street, is home from New Castle Hospital, and is somewhat improved.

Owing to a number of the members of Penna 80 lodge being on vacation, and others on the sick list, the meeting planned for Wednesday afternoon, at the Y.W.C.A. was postponed for two weeks, until Wednesday, July 28, at 2:30.

Patrol Struck Plant At Charleston, W. Va.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., July 16.—(INS)—West Virginia state police today patrolled the struck DuPont ammonia plant at Belle, near Charleston, where violence has flared the past two days.

A call for reinforcements of state police was sent out yesterday by Sheriff E. D. Brawley after picket line battles injured nine people.

Situation Serious

Sheriff Brawley described the situation as serious and said that he "could not cope with it."

The dispute involves worker representation by John L. Lewis' district 30 of the United Mine Workers, a catch-all union for workers outside the coal industry.

Some 2,500 have remained inside the struck plant and officials said the company is maintaining production.

Lawyers for the company yesterday asked enforcement of an injunction limiting the number of UMW pickets at each gate to two which was granted Wednesday.

Crows 'Dote' On Japanese Beetles

Easy Way Discovered To Be Rid Of Vicious Pest: Crows Use Them As Food

At last there has been discovered a priceless good deed, which is performed by the old American crow!

Since the days of the Indians and early settlers there has been a popular belief (and probably a true one) that Mr. Crow is the ruin of corn fields, and his thievery has been the cause of consternation by many, to, through all these years.

But be that as it may, the crow dotes on the Japanese beetle. Thus he is considered to be a first-class eliminator of this pest, whose yearly untold damages to fields and crops are exceedingly high in dollars and cents.

Discovery Made

The discovery came about quite simply. Tom Alexander and Tom Beatrice, employees at the disposal plant in Mahoningtown, discovered a group of crows "going to town" on the bugs which had polluted and ruined the hydrangea bushes near the plant. The "bugs" turned out to be Japanese beetles, the insect which is rather fussy when you consider its taste fancies the delicacies of roses, peaches, grapes and other valuable crops.

Owen Penfield Fox, city forester, was called immediately, and again the next day the crows performed the same deed of fasting on the Japanese beetles.

It might be mentioned here that the Japanese beetle is one of the most difficult insect pests to be eliminated. The insects practically lay at all types of sprays and poisons, and once they start their chewing spree the damages reach untold heights.

There are about 67 varieties of trees and shrubs in the fields that they feed upon. Most of the damage is felt in the spring, when they chew off the grass roots near the turf of the ground. It isn't until the month of June that the beetle becomes a "Japanese beetle", before that it is known as a grub. But even in its early stage it is vicious in its destruction.

Mr. Fox stated that this is the first time that he heard the crow to be of some use, and that they feed on Japanese beetles. At that, it is an excellent use!

Who knows, perhaps we will now be able to feel a little more kindly towards the crow.

Announce Revision- Of Rent Regulations For 'Small' Landlord

HARRISBURG, July 16.—(INS)—Area Rent Director Frank J. Shea has announced revision of rent adjustment regulations so no landlord need operate units at a loss.

A small landlord, one who owns not more than four rental dwelling units, will have no difficulty in qualifying for a justified hardship adjustment. He will merely have to fill out a simplified "short form" on which he will show how his net income has fallen because of increased costs of fuel, taxes, utilities and insurance, Shea explained.

"These changes," he said, "will, I believe, remove many of the complaints against the adjustment provisions that some landlords have made in the past. The office of the housing expeditor has now worked out what I believe is a complete answer to the objection that a landlord operating at a loss could not always obtain relief."

"The second change, which permits the small landlord to use the simplified short form in applying a hardship adjustment, will take care of the complaint that small landlords do not keep books or records and therefore are not able to qualify for a hardship increase. The only records they now need in order to fill out the short form are tax receipts, insurance premium notices, and fuel and utility bills.

"If they have lost any or all of these simple records, they can get the information they need from the tax office, their insurance agent, or their fuel and utility company offices."

Will Evacuate With Airplanes

NICOSIA, Cyprus, July 16.—(INS)—The United States was reported today to be planning air evacuation of American Nationals from the Middle East if Palestine developments make such a step necessary.

Four U. S. Flying Fortresses and three Dakota transports, arrived in Cyprus yesterday from Frankfurt, Germany.

Additional American planes are expected today.

Georgia is the nation's chief producer of watermelons.

Pleasant Dining Room At Eastbrook Camp

Dining room at Camp Eastbrook, the Y. W. C. A. camp on the Neshannock creek, is known to the campers as their "all-purpose" and "all-weather" room.

Its main object, of course, is to provide a place in which to eat. In addition to this, it accommodates the facilities for music and dramatics—the piano and the stage.

These items still do not exhaust possibilities of the stage, for at the end of the room opposite the stage there is a huge fireplace which can, and has been, used for marsh-mallow roasts, heating the room or for drying out clothes if the weather is foggy.

The large dining hall is made all the more pleasant by the fact that the youngsters are served excellent meals. Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser plans the meals, and they are prepared by Misses Elma Forrest and Marie Graham.

Adding to its attraction as a place of drama is the fact that the youngsters learn about "play acting" and learn many new songs under the supervision of Miss Marie Olson, dramatics counselor.

Duff Proclaims Pennsylvania Week

HARRISBURG, July 16.—(INS)—Greater stress on the Commonwealth's cultural, industrial and geographic advantages is planned by Gov. James H. Duff for the observance of "Pennsylvania Week" September 26 to October 2.

"We expect to make Pennsylvania Week this year the most outstanding week in the history of the state," he declared.

He explained that the committee arranging the annual observance is in "unanimous agreement" that the best formula for improving living and business in the state is to "let people inside and outside of Pennsylvania know what we have."

MAKE SUMMER LIVING EASIER

Hold a family council—get family cooperation, and form a pick-up habit. Members of the family should check their every-day jobs and ask themselves if there is an easier way of doing these jobs. Draperies may be cleaned and put away for the summer. Sheer glass curtains will admit more air and will not be damaged if a quick shower splashes through an open window.

Save time when dusting by putting away figurines, knickknacks, photographs, books, and magazines that will not be used through the summer. A waste basket placed in every room will save time and prevent carrying waste paper from room to room.

To make kitchen tasks easier, especially during hot weather, homemakers should sit whenever possible for household tasks, such as ironing and preparing food. This saves energy.

Homemakers will find shopping easier if they keep shopping lists and plan to shop during the coolest part of the day. Tanks in the summer will seem lighter when homemakers plan for rest and relaxation if only for a short period. Studies show that rest periods aid health and promote better work.

Compiling Booklet For State Hunters

HARRISBURG, July 16.—(INS)—The State Commerce Department is busy compiling a booklet to make hunting even more of a pleasure in Pennsylvania.

The Bureau of Vacation and Recreation reported it is making up a booklet titled "Hunting Accommodations in Pennsylvania" for the convenience of hunters.

The booklet, slated for distribution in early autumn, will list hotels, inns, farm homes, camps, cabins and other places where hunters may obtain accommodations.

It also will list a digest of the state game laws, a list of game protectors and their addresses and other information of value to sportsmen.

Babson Reminisces In Annual Home City Visit

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright, 1948, Publishers' Syndicate, Inc.)

GLOUCESTER, Mass., July 16.—I am back again for an annual visit to my old home city. Cannot help reminiscing and comparing conditions today with those of my boyhood days.

People More Prosperous
Certainly the people now have more food, clothing and shelter than ever before. They dress better and have better homes.

Probably over half the families have automobiles and most children go to high school. Whether these young people are happier than we were is questionable. A ride on a merry-go-round is no more fun today at 25 cents than at a nickel in my day.

These better conditions are not due to the people working harder or longer; in fact everyone worked ten hours a day when I was a boy. These better conditions are due to the machine age and mass production. The chain stores have also brought goods to the people for less money although they are hard on the local merchants for whom I truly feel sorry. Surely, if some of the old time storekeepers should come back they never would recognize Main street, bordered on both sides with flashy "chains", automobiles and gas stations.

Opportunities Are Less
The freedom and opportunities which we boys had 50 years ago no longer exist. Not only is it difficult now to get a good job without belonging to a labor union, but almost every trade is governed by laws and regulations. Everyone with whom you deal, from the nurse who takes care of your baby to the undertaker who buries you must register and have a license. This applies also to druggists, plumbers, painters, electricians, builders, mechanics and even barbers. Outspoken, these "examinations" are demanded to protect the public, but they are fast developing into a racket.

Not only are young people handicapped today in getting jobs and learning trades, but the wage and hour laws discourage employers from building new plants and expanding. The "drives" and willingness to take a risk, so evident in my boyhood, is very rare today. Almost all are depending upon something apart from their own brains, thrift and energy to support them. It may be a state law, a labor union, a pension or some stock and bond—or perhaps Uncle Sam! Courage is lacking. The present habit of avoiding personal responsibility for one's troubles will some day cause a smash.

Education Is Worse
The most dangerous change is the source of education. In my boyhood our education came from the home, the school and the church. Today these great institutions have lost their grip on the youth. The young people of Gloucester and most every other city are today being "educated" by movies, radio and comics. None of these existed when I was a boy. They must be controlled or "God help America". The curse of liquor is bad enough, but the liquor problem is no worse now than during my boyhood. Our school committees are asleep.

Perhaps this flood of so-called comics (I refer to the pamphlets not to the newspaper strips) are perhaps the greatest new danger which I notice. Fifty years ago one could get the Police Gazette in most barber shops and saloons, but these new "comic" magazines are everywhere and are very much worse. I wish every reader of this column would buy and read a half dozen of these terrible publications; but then, please burn them! You will soon realize that these cursed comic magazines are responsible for most of today's juvenile delinquency.

ability for one's troubles will some day cause a smash.

The curse of liquor is bad enough, but the liquor problem is no worse now than during my boyhood. Our school committees are asleep.

Perhaps this flood of so-called comics (I refer to the pamphlets not to the newspaper strips) are perhaps the greatest new danger which I notice. Fifty years ago one could get the Police Gazette in most barber shops and saloons, but these new "comic" magazines are everywhere and are very much worse. I wish every reader of this column would buy and read a half dozen of these terrible publications; but then, please burn them! You will soon realize that these cursed comic magazines are responsible for most of today's juvenile delinquency.

These better conditions are not due to the people working harder or longer; in fact everyone worked ten hours a day when I was a boy. These better conditions are due to the machine age and mass production. The chain stores have also brought goods to the people for less money although they are hard on the local merchants for whom I truly feel sorry. Surely, if some of the old time storekeepers should come back they never would recognize Main street, bordered on both sides with flashy "chains", automobiles and gas stations.

Opportunities Are Less
The freedom and opportunities which we boys had 50 years ago no longer exist. Not only is it difficult now to get a good job without belonging to a labor union, but almost every trade is governed by laws and regulations. Everyone with whom you deal, from the nurse who takes care of your baby to the undertaker who buries you must register and have a license. This applies also to druggists, plumbers, painters, electricians, builders, mechanics and even barbers. Outspoken, these "examinations" are demanded to protect the public, but they are fast developing into a racket.

Not only are young people handicapped today in getting jobs and learning trades, but the wage and hour laws discourage employers from building new plants and expanding. The "drives" and willingness to take a risk, so evident in my boyhood, is very rare today. Almost all are depending upon something apart from their own brains, thrift and energy to support them. It may be a state law, a labor union, a pension or some stock and bond—or perhaps Uncle Sam! Courage is lacking. The present habit of avoiding personal responsibility for one's troubles will some day cause a smash.

Education Is Worse
The most dangerous change is the source of education. In my boyhood our education came from the home, the school and the church. Today these great institutions have lost their grip on the youth. The young people of Gloucester and most every other city are today being "educated" by movies, radio and comics. None of these existed when I was a boy. They must be controlled or "God help America". The curse of liquor is bad enough, but the liquor problem is no worse now than during my boyhood. Our school committees are asleep.

Perhaps this flood of so-called comics (I refer to the pamphlets not to the newspaper strips) are perhaps the greatest new danger which I notice. France Proposes U. S. Bring Strong Pressure On Soviet

Would Have U. S. Exert Pressure On Other Fronts To Remove Berlin

PARIS, July 16.—(INS)—The French government was reported today to have proposed that the United States "bring strong pressure on other fronts" to force an end to the Soviet blockade of Berlin.

Authoritative diplomatic sources said that the proposed "other fronts" included possible ouster of the Soviet military mission in Japan, dispatch of American armed forces to Turkey or Iran, both of which border the Soviet Union on the south, or imposition of strong economic sanctions.

Drastic Step
French government leaders are said to recognize that, while such action would constitute a drastic step, it would not involve the same risk of war as an attempt at a showdown by force in Berlin itself. These leaders are said to feel that the third alternative in the Berlin crisis, outright capitulation to the Soviet demands on the western powers, would constitute a major defeat for the west in the "cold war" and involve world-wide loss of prestige.

The diplomatic sources said that French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault sent the proposal to U. S. State Secretary George Marshall in a "highly confidential" communication late yesterday. They said the French government decided on the proposal following the Soviet rejection of the Anglo-French-American Berlin protest notes.

Delegation From Mississippi Goes To Birmingham

Ground Work For Fourth Party To Be Planned In Southern Gathering

WITH MISSISSIPPI DIXIECRATS, ENROUTE TO BIRMINGHAM, Ala., July 16.—(INS)—Mississippians who walked out of the national Democratic convention rolled on to Birmingham, Ala., today, planning the groundwork for a fourth party.

Gov. Fielding L. Wright, who heads the Mississippi group, flatly declared that he does not consider Mississippi to belong to the Democratic party under its present leadership.

Gov. Wright explained, however, that he still regards Mississippi as Democratic despite party leadership, adding: "We have not bolted the party. It left us."

The Mississippians, spearheading the scheme to form the "Jeffersonian Democratic party", will be joined at Birmingham by representatives of other southern states.

Draft Plan To Raise Protest

Calling By Age Groups Instead Of Lottery Proposed Now

OTHER NEWS OF NATIONAL AFFAIRS

WASHINGTON, July 14.—The Selective Service commission that drafted by called up by age groups instead of by lottery, as in World War II, is expected to produce a howl around the country.

It is certain that every 18-through-25-year-old who is subject to call will feel the age-group is of questionable fairness, and he may prefer to take his chances on the "fish bowl".

Congressmen began receiving protests from constituents within hours after disclosure of the Selective Service intention.

Final decision, of course, will have to be made by President Truman. He may reverse Selective Service Director Lewis B. Hershey—a general—but the chief executive in the past has teamed well with Hershey.

Selective Service logically explains that better fighting forces can be trained out of age groups than out of a motley of ages. Men of one group—say 24-year-olds—have more interests in common. Fewer psychological problems are met.

Despite logic, however, it is entirely possible that protests from the voters in this election year will force return to the lottery system.

RADAR DEFENSE

The Air Force has started spending some 104 million dollars for a radar screen which will answer the 504 question when aircraft approach vital defense zones: "Is it friend or foe?"

The radar screen would be used to protect the most important defense zones of the United States and Alaska. It is so constructed that it can easily detect hostile aircraft before they reach important areas of the United States.

About four millions of the total sum is earmarked for land purchases in a full-fledged, five-year program.

The Air Force radar defense net would seem to tie in with program involving the National Guard's ground forces and Air Guard for a screen to protect the country against an airborne invasion.

Of course, any such program, to be completely effective, would also require the utmost cooperation from neighboring countries such as Canada, particularly in respect to Alaskan angles on the radar system.

RECIPROCAL TRADE

Republican congressional leaders regard the battle over the reciprocal trade agreements program as mainly a political sparring match. They do not think the question is as important as the administration contends.

President Truman, they argue, is trying to make a political campaign issue of the GOP attitude on tariff. They insist that this explains the stress placed on trade agreements by the administration.

The GOP chief claims say that the administration has made no plans for any further agreements and that any such agreements would be isolated and of minor importance since existing pacts already blanket the earth.

The 42 agreements now in effect will run on in perpetuity unless denounced by parties to the pacts regardless of whether Congress extends the trade agreements act as demanded by the administration.

Wallace Party Convention To Open Next Week

PHILADELPHIA, July 16. — (INS)—A welcome full settled over convention-battled Philadelphia today, but it was only temporary. Tomorrow the advance guard of the third party national convention troops into town to prepare for the "new party" sessions opening next Friday in Convention Hall.

The third party arrangements committee is moving right into the Bellevue-Stratford hotel quarters vacated by the Democrats who had taken them over from the Republicans.

Will Charge For Seats
There'll be one marked difference in the Wallace convention as compared with the Democratic and C.C.C. conclaves.

All you needed to get into Convention hall for the major party candidates' acceptance speeches was an admission ticket—free, if you could get your hands on one.

But the Wallace acceptance speeches will be delivered with a "cover charge" at Shibe Park next Saturday night. It will cost Wallace followers from 50 cents to $1.00 for seats to hear the farmer-vice president pledge battle with the Democrats and Republicans in November.

Regular sessions of the third party convention will be held in the same auditorium in which the Republicans nominated Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York and the Democrats chose President Truman.

WALLACE PLANS STAG ON WEDNESDAY
Members of the Third Party organization are planning a stag party to be held Wednesday, July 21, at 8:00 p. m. at a New Wilmington road house place.

During the evening games, refreshments and entertainment will take place.

Candy and the U. S. combined about one-fourth the world's supply of fish.

Nursing Test To Be Given Tomorrow

Young Women Interested Are To Take Pre-Entrance Test At New Castle Hospital

On Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock there will be given a nursing ability test at the New Castle Hospital School of Nursing to any young woman who has decided to accept the nursing profession.

The girls will attend open house at the hospital at 10:30 o'clock, and enjoy a 12 o'clock luncheon, which will be followed by the test.

September 1 is the date of admission for the next class of students, and it is expected that quite a few girls will be admitted.

Sister Lawrence Mary, director of nurses, will gladly talk to any young woman who desires further information. The New Castle Hospital School of Nursing, under the direction of the Sisters of St. Francis, has conducted an educational program in nursing since 1910, and has proved to be of high standards, with the approval of the Pennsylvania State Board of Nurse Examiners.

Ensigns Forced To Land Plane
CLEARFIELD, Pa., July 16. — (INS)—Two Ensigns from Floyd Bennett Field, New York, who were forced down in their navy training plane near Clearfield, await instructions from their superiors today.

They are Ensign George Dugan, 22, of Jersey City and Ensign Kingley Lambert, 23, of New York. They were off their course on a training flight, from Columbus O., to Harrisburg and ran low on gasoline, forcing the landing late last night. The plane was not damaged.

The landing was made on the farm of C. W. Mapes, three miles south of Clearfield.

MAKES LEAVES HOSPITAL

McClymonds; vice president, Miss Margaret Wilson; recording secretary, Mrs. Leslie McCracken; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Francis McCracken; and treasurer, Mrs. Mary Book.

State Aiding In Cost Of Plans For Sewage Plants

HARRISBURG, July 16. — (INS)—Seventy-seven Pennsylvania communities have received $473,173 from the commonwealth to help finance the cost of drafting blueprints for sewage treatment plants since 1935, the sanitary water board announced today.

The money was made available by the general assembly three years ago to speed the anti-stream pollution campaign initiated by the Martin administration. The legislature authorized the board to contribute as much as 50 per cent of the costs of blueprinting.

The board also announced that two Luzerne county communities had joined the cleanup campaign. Nescopeck was granted $100 and West Pittston $3103 the board said.

Slot Machines Are Fewer Now

State Hotels Association
Claims Credit For Disappearance Of Some Machines

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, July 16.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Hotels Association claims credit for some disappearance of slot machines. In its periodical, the organization alleged "slot machines in many private clubs in cities throughout the state are disappearing following P.H.A. regional meetings in which such illegal competition is strongly condemned." The P.H.A. said news stories about its objection to "this type of gambling" led to the disarming of "one-armed bandits." Mayor Claude H. Robins, of Harrisburg, declared flatly "slot machines must go" following a P.H.A. meeting at Harrisburg, the organization pointed out.

Pennsylvania housewives suffering from shortages of domestic help can sympathize with the Commonwealth and its housekeeping problems. The State employs 10,044 "housekeepers" at an aggregate annual payroll of $351,976. They include 9740 charwomen and 4296 janitors. Their chores range from scrubbing statues to polishing glittering crystal chandeliers.

The penny soda pop tax continues to be a "money maker" for soda fountain operators. Justice Department officials claim. A check of drug stores in the state capital shows many still charge an extra cent or two for soft drinks and even fresh fruit drinks not made with taxable syrups. The price hike is explained to customers as necessary due to the state tax. No mention is made of the fact that the levy is imposed on the soft drinks business not on sales of soft drinks to customers. At least one store advertised limeade for five cents, but docked the consumer an extra penny on collecting the bill. It also has been noted that many fountain operators have started to squirt a drop or two of syrup into fresh fruit to collect the extra money. The soft drinks business has been complaining ever since the tax became operative June 1, 1947.

Capital Hill newsmen at last have received a logical explanation for an annoying practice by secretaries and reception girls who refuse to put through telephone calls for their bosses without knowing "who is calling, please." Some of them even demand the answer before informing that the boss is 500 miles away. One of the girls naively explained her purpose was to "cover up" in case a superior was "checking up" while my boss is out playing golf. In such instances, she elucidated, the proper answer is "he's in conference" or "he's stepped out" or "I'll have him call when he's free." The girls can always put through a return call from the country club, she said.

Father Hunted In Shotgun Slaying Of Young Daughter
George Leonard, 47, Hunted In Fatal Shooting Of Girl Who Had Planned To Wed
INDIANAPOLIS, July 16.—(INS)—A four-state search was on today for a Johnson County (Ind.) farmer who fatally shot his pretty 23-year-old daughter in the presence of the girl's mother, two small sisters and other relatives near Indianapolis.

Object of the manhunt by Indiana, Kentucky, Ohio and Illinois police, was George Leonard, 47.
Mrs. Leonard said her husband fled in an automobile after killing his daughter, Frances, with two shotgun blasts at a relative's home in suburban Glens Valley yesterday.

Had Quarreled
She told Indiana State Police that Leonard had quarreled with Frances several weeks ago about her intention to marry Lloyd Keeler, 24, a truck grader living near the Leonards at Whitfield, Ind.

Mrs. Leonard added that her daughter had gone to live with an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Utterback of Glens Valley, about a month ago after the argument.
She stated that since then her husband had been brooding over the marriages of three other daughters against his wishes and over Frances' intentions to wed under similar circumstances.
There are said to be more than 250,000 professional women hair-dressers in England.

For 20 years, Elanore Hutzler has been chief of the women's division and fourth deputy commissioner of Detroit's police department. She has written several books on police women.
American occupation for the Panama canal zone began on May 4, 1904.

Empty Tin Cans Used In Aiding Agricultural Work

"Smaller" Filled With Sticky Fly-paper Are Traps For Gypsy Moths

HARRISBURG, July 16.—(INS)—The State Agriculture Department has as fine a collection of large, empty tin cans as can be seen.

Department employees have been collecting the tin cans for the past several months in the Wilkes-Barre area. Hotels, restaurants, homes even town dumps were visited regularly in search of "empties."

No ordinary collection, the accumulation of 6117 cans will be "an aid to agricultural science," according to the department.

The cans have been placed over a 3,500,000 acre region in the lower anthracite field, it was explained.

With their inside coated with a sticky flypaper substance, the cans were hung on trees at selected points in an 11-county area as traps for gypsy moths.

The sticky substance contains a bait that will attract and catch any male gypsy moths that might be flying in the vicinity.

When the moth season is over, in approximately six weeks, the traps will be gathered and moth control officials will know where to continue their 16-year fight against the destructive pest next spring.

The department, in cooperation with federal officials, recently completed spraying 315,000 acres in a heavily infested area in Duane and Lackawanna counties.

Only mopping up of outlying areas remains before the insect is driven completely from the state.

An automatic electric killer of flies, gnats and other small insects has been devised, eliminating the need for sprays. It is especially useful in dairies, bakeries and other food outlets.

GARDEN NOTES

Canes of raspberries from which the fruit has been harvested should be cut to the ground and burned. The new canes should be pinched off when two feet high so that side shoots will develop.

Hollyhocks may be made to blossom much longer than usual if their seed pods are cut off as soon as the flowers have fallen.

Weeding and hoeing should go forward as zealously during July and August as ever was done in weeks earlier.

Cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli and eggplant must be watched for leaf eaters in the form of small, green worms, which must be dusted or sprayed to exterminate them. Care should be taken to obtain non-poisonous insecticides.

To assure a long blooming season for perennials, faded flowers and seed pods should be removed. Tulips will have died down by now, and should be lifted, dried in the shade and stored in a dry cellar.

Patent Granted To Enon Valley Man

Martin M. Clayton Gets Patent On "Cable Clamp"; Assigned To Pittsburgh Concern

(Special To The News)
WASHINGTON, July 16.—On June 30, 1948, the United States Patent Office granted patent No. 2,444,082 on a "cable clamp" to Martin M. Clayton, Enon Valley, Pa.

Cable clamps are used in connection with electrical outlet boxes to securely hold electrical cables passing therethrough and to maintain the latter in position against the severe pulling forces to which they are subjected.

This invention pertains to improvements in one-piece clamps which obviously are easier to assemble and manipulate than two-piece units which have been used in the past. According to Mr. Clayton, these one-piece clamps have functioned efficiently when applied to armored cables or those surrounded with a sheath of metal, with their use with non-metallic sheath cable has been unsatisfactory.

The surface of the latter is smooth and generally consists of rubber insulation, crumpled paper, braid, and one or more coatings of wax or the like surrounding the pair of electrical conductors that they enclose. Its mass is compressible and does not present the hard convoluted structure of the armored cable which sets up firm, irregular gripping contacts. Thus, severe pulls on non-metallic sheath cable have tended to strip the cover therefrom.

It is therefore the object of Mr. Clayton's invention to overcome this disadvantage and, in general, his construction is such that when clamped down it causes a bunched shoulder to form on the surface of the cable. A severe pull on the latter causes a special edge on his clamp to bite into this shoulder; and as the pulling continues, the pulling continues, the cable sheath is increasingly bunched at that edge to thus effect a secure engagement that is superior to that obtainable with prior forms of these devices.

It is claimed that his arrangement does not impair the general advantages of one-piece clamps, such as ease of assembling within the outlet box and facility of engaging the cables.

This patent has been assigned to the National Electric Products Corporation, Pittsburgh, Pa.

The year 1947 was a record one for the production of farm equipment, stoves and ranges, trucks and washing machines.

New Enlistments During July Are Limited To 8,000, Recruiting Officer States

New enlistments of non-high school graduates in the U. S. Air Force will be restricted to 8,000 during July, the same quota set for June.

Enlistment of high school graduates will be unrestricted and, under the USAF "aviation career plan" such graduates may apply for and be assured, before enlistment, of assignment to any specialized technical training school they choose.

Existing standards of enlistment in the Air Force will continue during July.

Radio To Assist In Snow Removal

HARRISBURG, July 16.—(INS)—Radio directed snow removal operations is the latest project on the State Highway Department books. Following successful tests last winter in Erie and Cambria counties, the Department plans to install radio facilities in its snow removal equipment in eleven additional counties having the heaviest snow falls.

In eleven of the counties, radio service offered by Public Utilities will be used, according to Department officials. The firms will provide all the equipment and help the maintenance of a working radio system.

In the seven remaining counties the Department will purchase and operate its own radio system under authorization of the Federal Communications Commission.

Completion of the system in time for the 1948-49 winter will improve efficiency of the snow removal equipment by using radio for radio equipment to trucks and other equipment to handle the snow, according to Dept. officials.

Sailors Defeat Chiefs In Ninth, 7-6

Pinch Double, Error, Long Fly Wins Battle

The Erie Sailors were glad to leave New Castle last night, after dropping a win, and winning a razor-edge battle, at P. J. Flaherty Memorial Field, last evening 7 to 6, to salvage one game of the three-game stand, against the improved Chiefs.

Unable to maintain a 5 to 3 lead in the sixth, and a 6 to 5 lead in the ninth, the Chiefs saw the game slip away in the ninth as pinch-hitter Domenick Cingolani opened the inning with a slashing double to center field and reached third on poor handling of the liner. Cingolani scored on a long fly to center by Henry and that was the clincher for Erie.

Hansen Settles Down

It looked at the start of the game as if young Bobby Hansen the Erie hurler was in for a bad evening, as New Castle batted in two runs in the opening inning and had five hits for the next two innings, but failed to score. Hansen settled down in the fourth inning and for the next four heats held the Chiefs at bay with only four hits and four runs. Hansen fanned seven.

Sign New Hurler

The New Castle Chiefs last night through General Manager Jimmy Cannavino, announced the signing of a new pitcher—Jerry "Spec" Resack, of Akron, 6 foot 8 inches, and 190 pounds. Resack was with the Clinton, Iowa, team of the Central Association last year, and had a fine record. He is a right-hander, and will probably face Old City tonight in his initial start.

seven batters in the eight frames that he worked. Fisher took over in the ninth after Cingolani had batted for Hansen.

Slipped Away

The Chiefs failed in the pinches last night, especially in the third inning when they had three on and one out. Erie on the other hand made the most of their eight outs, all of them. New Castle had two men stranded and Erie but six.

Full In Pinches

Glenn Burns with four hits in five trips was the leading New Castle batter last night, while Frank Mahoney had a single and double, and Perry and Cingolani hit his pieces, the latter getting a nice triple in the fifth driving in two runs that tied at third.

At Old City Today

Froeman was the only Erie player able to solve Thomas for more than one hit, being credited with a single and double. Thomas was just a bit wild in spots, walking four men. He fanned two. Hansen didn't issue a pass and fanned seven.

The Chiefs made a very commendable showing against the Erie club, winning two. Tonight the Chiefs will play at Old City in the first of a three-game series. Monday the Chiefs return to Flaherty Field for an important series with the league leading Uniontown Coal Barons.

Next Tuesday is "Ladies' Night" at the ball park.

Possible Fractured Ankle

Freddy Shipman, the 30-year-old Erie second baseman, suffered a possible fractured right ankle in the second inning of the game last night when he slid into second base on a force out, being doubled on a grounder hit by Brosovich to shortstop. He was removed to the New Castle hospital where his ankle was treated. He will likely be out of the Erie lineup for several weeks. He did not make the trip with Erie to Uniontown.

These Rookies Brighten Play In Majors

Hank Green, Leo Bepko, Ray Fent, Gene Bearden, Al Burt

Living up to their advance notices have been these outstanding first-year men in the major leagues. Hank Green of Cincinnati has become one of the National League's most feared sluggers while Richie Ashburn, speed-demon of the Phillies, is one of the coming outfield greats. Dark, ex-L. S. U. athlete, has helped the Boston Braves assume the leadership in the center circuit with his fine shortstop play. Briscoe of the A's and Bearden of the Indians have excelled on the mound and the flinging of Ray Fent, New York Giants, has kept the Ott men battling for a first division berth.

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, July 16.—The Cleveland Indians have the laugh on their American League rivals today.

All season long other contenders have been yammering that "the Tribe hasn't got it," despite the continued presence of the Indians at or near the top.

Last night, however, Cleveland finally shook off the pesky Philadelphia Athletics, their most persistent pursuers. They forged two and one-half game ahead of the Mackmen by winning both ends of a two-night doubleheader.

Furthermore, the Tribe came up with airtight pitching from two rather unexpected sources. Steve Gromek held the A's to four hits as he beat them in the opener, 8-1.

In the nightcap Satchel Paige, recently signed Negro hurler, who must be closer to 30 than he cares to admit, got into the game in a relief role and won his first major league victory, 8-5. Larry Doby, another Negro on the Cleveland roster, insured the victory by hitting a two-run homer in the ninth.

The New York Yankees went into a virtual tie with the A's for second place by beating the St. Louis Browns under the lights, 4 to 2, behind Frank Hiller.

Boston's Red Sox also gained on all contenders except Cleveland.

In the afternoon, the Sox trounced Detroit 13 to 5, with Jack Kramer racking up his eighth straight victory and snapping Detroit's seven-game winning streak.

In the night game it took Boston only an hour and 22 minutes to beat the Tigers again, 3 to 1, with Mel Parnell holding the Tigers to six hits and the Sox getting only four off Dixie Trout.

Washington's Rae Scarborough beat the Chicago White Sox in a night game, 4 to 1.

The Boston Braves, who have won five in a row, now enjoy a six-game lead in the National League. Johnny Sain showed his appreciation for an unexpected raise in pay by beating the Cubs 2 to 1. The second game was halted by darkness at the end of the 13th with the score tied at 1 to 1.

Pittsburgh nosed out the Giants 4 to 3 on Stan Rokj's ninth-inning single, but was swamped in the nightcap 10 to 3. Ralph Kiner got his 24th homer in the first game.

Dutch Leonard, veteran knuckleballer of the Phillies, bested Harry the Cat Brecheen 3 to 1 under the lights as the St. Louis Cardinals suffered their sixth defeat in their last seven starts.

Brooklyn's Rex Barney held the Reds to five hits and beat them 5 to 3 in another night game.

Ott Out, Leo Heads Giants, Shotton Back

(BULLETIN 11 A. M.)

NEW YORK, July 16.—(INS)—Mel Ott resigned today as manager of the New York Giants.

Leo Durocher resigned as manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers and was named manager of the Giants.

Burt Shotton, Dodger scout who managed the Dodgers last year, was re-named manager of the Dodgers today.

Horace Stenham, president of the Giants, called a meeting of the press for noon today to make the announcement.

Last Chance

It had been rumored for some time that Ott was on his way out of the New York club. He had been given to understand that this year he had to make good or go.

The Giants started off well but soon ran into their usual pitching troubles. Injuries to key players further hampered the Giants and soon they started to tumble toward the second division.

The club which last year led the National league with 221 home runs, this year finds itself last in the league in team batting.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

HAROLD SEWALL, a News printer, won a hot from fellow-employees who wagered he wouldn't catch 60 trout this season. He caught the sixtieth trout Wednesday, and collected. However, Harold did not keep all 60. He returned all excepting the largest trout, uninjured, to the stream. Sunday, Harry Carlson, another News printer, Fred Black and Harold fished near Tionesta along the Allegheny. Sewall left his line unguarded. Speaking to himself, Carlson said: "I'd like to see a bass hit his line and drag the pole into the stream." The thought no sooner had been entertained than a nice bass hit the hook and the pole started to slide toward the water. Harold retrieved it, and caught the fish. Another News printer who likes his fishing and hunting is Clyde Burkholder. He owns a good bird dog. Cecil F. Suber, police lieutenant, Wednesday afternoon, caught five nice large-mouth bass, the largest 6 1/2 pounds, in Hidden Lake. The catches were made during the heat of the day. It was his first trip to the marsh lake this year. Last year here and there fished with Suber who caught eight, threw four back into the stream while here and there's score was zero. Frank Peterson, the well known rod and line man, reports some nice bass hovers at Cinder Hole in the Neshannock creek. Raymond Stough, Sunday morning, Art Williams says he favors the Neshannock creek for bass. D. Emerick, Ed. Fritz, Jr., and others plan a fishing trip to Lakes Chemung, Pigeon and Little Buckhorn in September. Right now Fritz is helping President Herman Steinbrink prepare to handle at least 500 at the Tuesday night outdoor meeting of the Lawrence County Sportsman's Association, at their Harbor farm. A wiener roast will be staged after the meeting. Here and there thanks the Holden company of Cleveland for their new plug, an under-water lure, vari-colored, and which is protected from chipping.

Lewis Pith, manager of the Park Boathouse as Pymatuning reports to here and there, the largest wall-eye caught this month, weighed 10 pounds six ounces and was 30 inches in length. It was caught by R. Bennett, Sharon. The next largest weighed the same but was one-half inch less, and was caught by Sherman Matlocks, Sharon. Nine and one-half pound wall-eyes, in length 31, 30 and 29 1/2 inches were caught by Fred Sperry, Sharon, Jim Buchanan, Greenville, and A. C. Neill, Pittsburgh, respectively. No large wall-eyes were caught by New Castle fishermen, according to the report. Billy Poma, Ellwood City heavyweight, will enter the New Castle hospital for a tonsil operation, Monday, hence the proposed battle with Rizieri Ronzi will not come off soon. George Sheppard, New York manager, wants to bring Tony Janiro here to box. Tommy Leach, Jefferson A. C. matchmaker, may catch Jackie Lyons, husky, and hard-hitting 160-pounder, with Rizieri Ronzi for the next Flaherty field battle. Lawrence County Sportsman's Association hope to buy several of the old floodlights which were taken down at Taggart stadium. The school board has not yet answered their request. While there is some talk of a director of athletics at Senior high, it is not believed the talk will come to anything, the board of directors having refused to name a director of elementary education, hence they cannot see why a director of athletics should be named.

Beagle men are asked to report at the Volant clubhouse Saturday and Sunday, to help complete the outside kennel runs and erect a horse stable. They are to bring their own baskets of food and their ladies are asked to accompany them and arrange the dinner. It is anticipated the outdoor meeting Tuesday night of the LCSEA at the Harbor will be one of the outstanding events of the summer season. Winners will be devoured as quickly as sun melts snow. Gilmore Smith, police sergeant, is sporting a new boat. Charles Nolan, street department employee, is one of the best crab-catchers in the district. Jim McCormick is fishing at Georgian Bay. As soon as Larry Doby's ankle heals, he will be the centerfielder for Cleveland, according to Manager Lou Boudreau. While fishing recently at Lake Chemung, Jack Fritz, Jr., age 4, shamed his father, the city clerk. Using a telescope pole, he caught a 1 1/2 pound bass, while his father had to be content with perch. Herb Samuels is preparing for a trip to Buckhorn lake. Claire Book is fishing at Buckhorn.

Vic Ghezzi Leads Dapper Dan Tourney

PITTSBURGH, July 16.—(INS)—Vic Ghezzi of Englewood, N. J., today led the field of 126 into the second 19-hole round of the $16,000 Dapper Dan golf tournament at the Alcona golf course in Pittsburgh.

The former national PGA titlist set a new Alcona course record of 68 Thursday in the first round of the 72-hole tournament. Ghezzi's six under par was two less than the old record of 70.

The Jerseyite's approach shots were really on as he blazed through the first nine holes in 31 strokes. He did the last nine in 35, missing a four-foot putt on the 18th green.

Bunched at 60, three strokes behind Ghezzi, were Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif.; Ellsworth Vines, former tennis great, playing out of Iowa City, Iowa; Cary Middlecott, the playing dentist from Memphis, Tenn.; and George Fazio, Conshohocken, Pa.

Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, who can pass the idle Ben Hogan in the race for top money honors for the year, carded a two under par 70 as did E. J. "Dutch" Harrison, the "Arkansas Traveler" from Albuquerque, N. M., and Carl Beljan, a virtually unknown golfer from Johnston, Pa.

Mangrum cost himself the chance to score in the 60s when he missed four-foot putts on two different holes.

At 71 are George Schoux, Mamaroneck, N. Y.; Ed Furgol, Pontiac, Mich.; Bill Nary, Phoenix, Ariz.; Toby Lyons, Warren, Pa.; Paul Glavan, Washington, Pa.; Felix Serafin, Pittston, Pa.; and Mike Pavella, Washington.

Tied at par 72 are Jimmy Thompson, New York; Skip Alexander, Lexington, Ky.; Steve Doctor, Buffalo, N. Y.; Tony Penna, Cincinnati; Fred Haas, Jr., New Orleans, and Ky Lafoon, St. Andrews, Ill.

Two former major league outfielders are in the tournament. Sammy Byrd, who used to be with the New York Yankees, shot a one over par 73. Paul Wagner, ex-Pittsburgh Pirate great, carded an 82.

The field will be cut to about 60 at the end of today's round.

The remaining professional players will be gunning for the $2,000 first prize.

Second prize will be $1,000, third prize $1,350 and fourth $1,500.

Mangrum has earned more than $10,000 to date and needs to finish in the first four to pass Harehey Ben Hogan who has $20,000 plus in his bank.

Diminutive Ben, national open and PGA champ, asked to be excused from the tournament in order to take a rest. Ben said he had been playing golf every day for three months and was tired. He will swing back to action at Reading next week.

Set Date For Big Golf Tournament

Annual Western Pennsylvania And Eastern Ohio Tourney Occurs Next Month

Manager Sam Haycock of the sylvan Heights course announced today the annual western Pennsylvania and eastern Ohio amateur championship tournament will be held at Sylvan Heights course on Sunday, August 15, which is expected to attract over 100 of the leading golfers of the two states.

Entries are being accepted by Ted Lach, box 213, this city, and already a number of players have signed up for the big tourney.

There will be a 36-hole medal play match. Entry fees and blank must be in the hands of the committee by Thursday, August 10, in order to assure a starting time.

Rumors Have Louis Fighting Once More

NEW YORK, July 16.—(INS)—Indications are that Joe Louis may be induced to come out of his still unofficial retirement for just one more fight.

The 20th Century Sporting club has virtually completed arrangements for an outdoor fight on September 22 and reportedly is hopeful of putting the heavyweight champion in with Gus Lesnevich, the light heavy titleholder.

One report also has it that the 20th Century already has contracted for Louis' Pompton Lakes training camp during August and September.

These varied reported developments presumably spring from the fact that it is going to be next to impossible to sell the public Jersey Joe Walcott, Lesnevich or any other current fighter as heavy-weight champion without a defense by Louis.

It may also be a near impossibility to sell matches involving these other fighters, including Lee Savold, Joey Maxim and various odds and ends of similar vulnerability.

A Louis-Lesnevich fight would draw a fair sort of gate because many give Gus a fair chance to win the title.

Lesnevich makes his next start on July 30 against Freddy Mills at London in defense of his light heavy crown. He is expected to stop Mills again, as he did several months ago.

VOLANT WINS NUMBER 21

Volant slapped a neat defeat on St. Mary's last night at the Volant field, 13-1. Bill (Pewee) Young twirled beautiful ball for Volant.

Ten hits coupled with five errors accounted for the 13 runs for the winners. The game was featured by two sensational double plays for the Volant nine.

State hunting season bag limits for ringneck pheasants this year are two a day and eight for the season.

St. Louis Browns Still On Market

CHICAGO, July 16.—(INS)—If the St. Louis Browns are really on the market, Emory J. Perry, Chicago industrialist, still is in the market.

Richard C. Muckerman, owner of the Browns, recently took St. Louis fans to task for failure to support the baseball team at the turnstiles and indicated that the club is for sale.

A year ago Perry, representing a syndicate of several men, offered Muckerman $1,000,000 for his 160,000 shares of the club's stock. At that time the stock was selling for $4.25 a share, and Perry's offer for Muckerman's 51 per cent interest was equal to $6.25 a share.

Today, Perry said:

"We are at a loss to know just what the real value of the St. Louis Browns might be at this time. However, if Mr. Muckerman is really interested in selling the Browns, he would be interested in knowing what he might be asking for his controlling interests at this time and what he has to offer to substantiate the value of his stock, even though the market price has held firm."

The Green Bay Packers of the National Football league have added Gene Wilson, pass-catching end of last year's club, and Don Deeks, 246-pound tackle acquired in a recent trade that saw fullback Roy McBride go to the Washington Redskins.

Rickards Quits Pitt For Pros

PITTSBURGH, July 16.—(INS)—The much beleaguered University of Pittsburgh football team received another setback today with the announcement that star passer Paul Rickards has quit school to play pro football with the Cleveland Browns of the All-American conference.

In 1944, as quarterback in the T-formation, Rickards set a passing record for Pitt, gaining 897 yards through the air. He then went into the Army and didn't return until last year.

Rickards could not adjust himself to Mike Milligan's single wing attack and saw little action with the 1947 Panthers.

Meanwhile, Pitt's athletic committee is wading through some 30 applications in an effort to find a successor to departed athletic director James Hagan.

CANNAVINO OFFERS NOTRE DAME-PURDUE JUNKET TO WINNER

Some lucky baseball fans in New Castle are going to win themselves a very pleasant week end, come September 24, 25 and 26. General Manager Mike Cannavino of the New Castle Chiefs is offering—get this—all expenses paid trips to the Notre Dame-Purdue football game at South Bend, Ind., for the holders of the lucky number to be drawn at the ball games at the end of each three-game series starting with Uniontown next Monday.

How you can win—it's easy—just buy a ticket to the ball game, get a stub—if you're lucky—well, you get to see one of the biggest football games of the year at South Bend, and all for free.

For each series of three games you can have as many as three lucky tickets. In all there will be nine winners here, with nine series of games coming up.

Pennsylvania was seventh among all the states last year in the issuance of fishing licenses (both resident and non-resident) with a total of 599,572, according to the Fish and Wildlife Service of the U. S. Department of the Interior. Michigan was first with 699,329, California second, Minnesota third, Ohio fourth, Wisconsin fifth and New York sixth.

Neal To Collect Taxes In Ellwood

County Treasurer Will Be At Municipal Building Monday And Tuesday

OTHER NEWS OF COURT HOUSE HILL

County Treasurer Don I. Neal will spend Monday and Tuesday, July 19 and 20 at the Municipal Building in Ellwood City for the purpose of accepting county taxes from the residents of the Ellwood City district.

This will eliminate the necessity of Ellwood City taxpayers coming to New Castle to pay their taxes. The hours at the Municipal Building will be from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., and most of the taxpayers of the borough are expected to avail themselves of this opportunity. Quite a few have already mailed checks to the treasurer for their taxes.

DIVORCE ACTIONS MANY

Of the 57 Civil Actions already brought for action at the September term of Court, 28 have been divorce proceedings, almost half the docket of the Civil Court so far.

Maybe its the heat, or maybe its just the general tendency of folks to disagree, even on love. At any rate, a record number of divorce cases will be on tap when September rolls around from present indications.

TWENTY-FOUR IN JAIL

The current jail population stands at 24, Sheriff Frank L. Coon revealed today. This is quite a large number for the summer time. Folks as a rule do not like to be penned up in the summer time, but then Lawrence County has a nice cool jail, and the inmates are not suffering too much from the heat.

RECORDED ON TRIP

County Register and Recorder, Orville Potter and daughter, Janet, are spending the balance of the week, and incidentally the balance of Mr. Potter's vacation on a motor trip through New York state. Mr. Potter expects to be back at his desk again on Monday.
